WALLS OF BERGAMO WORLD HERITAGE SITE

Since 9 July 2017, the fortress city of Bergamo and its Venetian Walls have been a World Heritage Site, along with Peschiera del Garda, Palmanova, Zara, Šibenik and Kotor. Collectively named The Venetian Works of the Defence between 16th and 17th centuries: Stato da Terra – Western Stato da Mar, this serial transnational site spans more than 1,000 km from Lombardy to the eastern Adriatic coast. Mountain fortresses, ideal fortresses, fortresses on the water's edge: these alla moderna fortifications embody the variety of defensive structures built by Venice, which was committed to protecting its entire territory, be it land or sea.

The Segretariato UNESCO of the serial site, based in the Municipality of Bergamo, facilitates relationships between the cities of the serial site and promotes UNESCO values.

In 2017 the Unesco World Heritage enlists Bergamo Walls within the serial and transnational site named The Venetian Works of the Defence between 16th and 17th centuries: Stato da Terra – Western Stato da Mar.

UPPER GUNPOWDER MAGAZINE OF SAN MARCO

The most explosive place in the entire city wall network!

BULWARK OF SAN LORENZO

A bulwark built on bare rock, where once there was only the sea

BULWARK OF FARA

A Longobard name for the last bulwark of the Republic of Venice

GATE OF SANT'ALESSANDRO

A name carved in stone: the gate of the city's patron saint

EMBRASURE OF SAN GIOVANNI

Discovering the "ramp exit": a journey under and within the Walls

BULWARK OF SAN GIACOMO

Once a stone outpost to ward off enemies, today a selfie destination!

GATE OF SAN GIACOMO

A white jewel set among the grey stones of the Walls of Bergamo

PLATFORM OF SANT'ANDREA

Shaded by horse-chestnut trees, the first panoramic promenade in the history of Bergamo

BULWARK OF SAN MICHELE

Rows of trees floating above the horizon conceal fearsome embrasures

GATE OF SANT'AGOSTINO

Once the main entrance to the fortress, now the home of Mura di Bergamo: the Museum
